

3.01 – Why People Migrate Partner 1: _____ Partner 2: _____

Prompt:

Think of a time when you faced a situation that demanded action — something you couldn't ignore. Describe what happened and what emotions you experienced.

Push & Pull Factors of Migration

Push Factors – Reasons to Leave

- Economic hardship: lack of jobs, low wages, poverty
- Political instability: corruption, persecution, war
- Natural disasters: hurricanes, floods, drought, famine
- Lack of opportunity: limited education or healthcare

Pull Factors – Reasons to Go

- Better quality of life: improved education, healthcare, safety
 - Economic opportunity: higher wages, better jobs
 - Freedom: political or religious liberty
 - Family reunification: joining relatives abroad

Key Concept: Exigence

Definition:

An exigence is an urgent need or demand that calls for a response.

Origin:

From Latin exigere – “to demand or require.”

Life is full of exigencies — moments that demand a decision or response.

Some arrive like thunder (a sudden crisis), others whisper quietly (a truth you can't ignore).

Exigence reminds us that meaning often begins where comfort ends.

Partner Activity: Concept Map – “Exigence in Context” (15 min)

Goal: Connect the abstract idea of exigence to real-world examples.

Product:

Create one group or individual mini-map with 3–5 examples clearly labeled and visually connected.

Task

1. Sort: Place at least 2 exigencies in the Personal, Social, or Global circle of your Venn diagram.
2. Select: Star one from each category that feels most urgent or relevant to you today.
3. Discuss: Discuss the emotional undercurrents that drive one to act or fail to act when it comes time to make a decision

- Wrestling with indecision — wanting opposite things at the same time
- Resource shortages (water, energy)
- Trying (and failing) to resist distractions like video games or social media
- Navigating romantic relationships or breakups
- Refugee and asylum crises
- Thinking of one that's not listed above? Write it in.

Global – widescale social pressures,
typically outside of one's control

- Economic inequality between nations
- Balancing loyalty between two people in conflict
- Complying with a system or routine you fundamentally disagree with — showing up, following rules, doing the “right thing” even when it feels hollow
- Struggling to communicate honestly without hurting someone
- Civil War/ Political Instability
- Trying to define who you are apart from what's demanded of you
- Knowing what needs to be done but not having the motivation to start

Personal – internal needs or challenges

Exigence

Social Exigencies – relational needs (friends, family, community)
