

ERWC MODULE STANDARDS PLAN *

Module: Ready to Launch

Template Section/Cell(s)	ELA Standards Addressed	ELD Standards Addressed	Activities
Reading Rhetorically
Preparing to Read	RI.2 W.5 L.6	PI.A.1, 4 PI.B.5	Activity 1: Getting Ready to Read and Creating Personal Learning Goals Reflect on prior learning and envision links between prior learning and future contexts for that learning
Text: Congratulations, By the Way: Some Thoughts on Kindness (Excerpts) by George Saunders
Preparing to Read	W.10		Activity 2: Getting Ready to Read – Quickwrite Make a connection between own thoughts and experiences and the module’s genre and text
	SL.1 L.3	PI.A.1	Activity 3: Exploring Key Concepts – One Ceremony, Two Genres Differentiate between valedictory and commencement speeches and how each serves a specific purpose and exists in a distinct rhetorical situation
			Activity 4: Creating Personal Learning Goals – The Four Skills of Language Situate students within the specific learning goals of the module and relate those goals to the skills, practices, tools, and processes each student has already identified
Reading Purposefully	SL1, 3	PI.A.2 PI.B.5	Activity 5: Reading for Understanding – Twice Through the Text Experience a graduation speech twice, first as a listener and then as a reader
	RI. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6	PI.B.6, 7, 8	Activity 6: Annotating and Questioning the Text – Lenses and Marks Read through the text a third time through a particular lens of their choice, examining a specific set of choices made by the writer and engaging further with the text itself
	SL.1	PI.A.1	Activity 7: Analyzing Rhetorical Grammar – A Text-Based Chat

	RI.4 L.6	PI.B.8	Heighten awareness of language features and their rhetorical effect in a professional text
Questioning the Text	W.4, 10	PI.C.10 PI.C.6	Activity 8: Summarizing and Responding – Letter to Saunders or Someone Else Synthesize the speech’s meaning and create a structure for articulating a personal response
	SL.1 W.10	PI.A.1 PI.C.10	Activity 9: Reflecting on Your Reading Process Monitor the successful use of reading strategies and progress toward specific personal learning goals
Preparing to Respond
Discovering What You Think	SL.1, 3 RI.7	PI.A.1 PI.B.5	Activity 10: Considering Your Task and Your Rhetorical Situation – The Prompt (and the Inevitable Rush to Google and YouTube) Introduce the assignment, inviting students into the rhetorical situation
	RI.6 SL.3 W.7	PII.C.6	Activity 11: Gathering Relevant Ideas and Materials – Purpose and Genre Gather materials to consider the potentials in their rhetorical situation
	W.4, 5	PII.11	Activity 12: Developing a Position – Brainstorming Purpose and Tone Consider the guiding purpose(s) of the speech
Writing Rhetorically
Composing a Draft	W.10	PI.C.10	Activity 13: Making Choices About Learning Goals – Revisit and Revise Revisit and revise learning goals
	W.2, 5 SL.4, 6	PII.A.1, 2 PI.9, 10, 11, 12	Activity 14: Making Choices as You Write – Class Rubric/Outline Establish clear expectations around genre conventions and organizational structures
Revising Rhetorically	W.4, 5	PII.B, 5	Activity 15: Analyzing Your Draft Rhetorically – Crafting a “Reader-Based” Draft Assess the effectiveness of the writing based on its response to the rhetorical situation and make a plan for revision
	SL.1 W. 2, 4, 5	PI.1.A PII.B.3,4,5	Activity 16: Gathering and Responding to Feedback – Feedback Interview Protocol

		PII.C.6, 7	Provide peer and teacher feedback that students can actively apply to the next draft of their speech
	SL.1 W. 2, 4, 5	PI.A.1 PII.B.3,4,5 PII.C.6, 7	Activity 16: Gathering and Responding to Feedback – Feedback Interview Protocol Provide peer and teacher feedback that students can actively apply to the next draft of their speech
Editing	W. 2, 4, 5	PII.B.3,4,5 PII.C.6,	Activity 17: Preparing Your Text for Publication Revisit genre conventions and audience expectations
	W.10	PI.C.9, 10	Activity 18: Reflecting on Your Writing Process and Learning Goals – Letter to Your Teacher Consider and communicate the overall value of the learning experience

* This document shows standards that are addressed or involved in each activity. How the teacher presents or focuses the activity will determine which standards are actually taught. In order to assess a standard, students need to submit specific evidence completed independently. Formative activities or the culminating writing project may provide this evidence.